GUA SHA GUIDE

01

Starting with the Neck & Decolletage

Hold the Gua Sha tool with the curved side facing downwards. Starting from the base of your neck, gently glide the tool in an upward motion towards your jawline. Move across your neck in sections, ensuring smooth and gentle strokes. Once you reach the decolletage area, use upward strokes to promote lymphatic drainage and circulation.

02

Moving to the Jawline and Chin

Position the Gua Sha tool so that the curved side is against your skin. Begin at the center of your chin and sweep the tool outward along your jawline towards your earlobes. Repeat this motion a few times on each side to sculpt and define your jawline.

03

Gua Sha for the Cheeks & Cheekbones

Hold the Gua Sha tool at a 45-degree angle against your cheek. Starting from the center of your face, near your nose, sweep the tool outward along your cheekbone towards your ear. Use gentle, upward strokes to lift and contour your cheeks.

04

Gua Sha for the Forehead & Temples

Hold the Gua Sha tool with the curved side facing up. Begin in the middle of your forehead and sweep the tool outward towards your hairline, following the natural contours of your forehead. Repeat this motion across your entire forehead, paying extra attention to areas with tension or fine lines. Move to your temples and use gentle, circular motions to relieve stress and promote relaxation.

05

Gua Sha for the Eye Area

Be extremely gentle in this area due to the delicate skin. Use the curved end of the Gua Sha tool to perform light, upward strokes beneath your eyes, starting from the inner corner and moving towards your temples. For the eyelids, use the flat side of the tool and gently sweep from the inner corner to the outer corner.

06

Gua Sha for the Lips and Nasolabial Folds

Hold the Gua Sha tool horizontally and use the curved end. Glide the tool along your nasolabial folds (smile lines) in an upward and outward motion. For the lips, gently sweep the tool from the center of your lips towards the corners to enhance circulation and plumpness.

07

Gua Sha for the Brow Bone and Eyebrows

Hold the Gua Sha tool with the curved side facing down. Start at the inner corner of your brow bone and sweep the tool under your eyebrow, following its natural arch. Repeat this motion across your brow bone, focusing on areas with tension or brow definition.

BENEFITS

LYMPHATIC DRAINAGE

Gua Sha is particularly renowned for its ability to promote lymphatic drainage. As the tool glides along the skin, it encourages the movement of lymphatic fluid, responsible for removing waste and toxins from the body. Improved lymphatic drainage can reduce puffiness and inflammation, leading to a more sculpted and contoured facial appearance.

INCREASED CIRCULATION

The gentle scraping motion of Gua Sha stimulates blood circulation in the treated areas. Enhanced blood flow brings vital nutrients and oxygen to the skin cells, supporting collagen production and promoting a radiant, youthful complexion.

FACIAL TENSION RELEASE

Gua Sha effectively relieves tension in the facial muscles, helping to ease jaw tightness and reduce headaches caused by clenching or grinding. The massage encourages a sense of relaxation and rejuvenation, reflecting on the face's revitalized appearance.

DETOXIFICATION

By encouraging lymphatic flow and stimulating circulation, Gua Sha supports the body's natural detoxification processes. This can lead to a clearer complexion as toxins and impurities are flushed out, leaving the skin looking and feeling healthier.

REDUCTION OF FINE LINES AND WRINKLES

The stimulation of collagen production and improved circulation through Gua Sha can contribute to reducing the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles over time. The massage helps to firm and tighten the skin, providing a natural anti-aging effect.

GUA SHA

Gua Sha is a traditional healing technique with roots dating back thousands of years in Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM). The term "Gua Sha" (刮痧) literally translates to "scraping sand" in Mandarin, referring to the method of using a smooth-edged tool to gently scrape the skin's surface. This therapeutic massage technique is believed to release stagnation, stimulate circulation, and promote the body's natural healing process.

A Gua Sha tool is typically made from various materials, including rose quartz, jade, or other gemstones, each with its unique properties. The rose quartz Gua Sha, in particular, is treasured for its calming and soothing energy, promoting self-love and emotional healing during the massage ritual.

During a Gua Sha massage, a generous amount of Jojoba oil or any other serum is applied to the skin to reduce friction and allow the tool to glide smoothly. The therapist or individual performing the massage then uses gentle yet firm strokes to scrape the skin in specific directions, following the meridian channels of the body. The strokes create temporary redness, known as "sha," which indicates the release of stagnation and toxins from the deeper layers of the skin.

BENEFITS

01

DEEP HYDRATION AND SKIN SOFTENING

Embrace unparalleled hydration as Jojoba oil delivers moisture deep into your skin, leaving it supple, soft, and smooth to the touch. Say goodbye to dry, flaky skin and welcome a vibrant and youthful complexion.

02

SOOTHING IRRITATION AND REDNESS

Experience the calming effects of Jojoba oil on irritated or inflamed skin. Its anti-inflammatory properties help reduce redness, itching, and discomfort, making it an excellent choice for those with sensitive skin conditions like eczema or rosacea.

03

NON-GREASY TEXTURE

Unlike many oils, Jojoba oil is lightweight and quickly absorbed, leaving behind no greasy residue. This makes it perfect for use in both daytime and nighttime skincare routines, offering a comfortable and luxurious experience.

04

ANTI-AGING PROPERTIES

Bid farewell to fine lines and wrinkles as Jojoba oil's antioxidants combat the signs of aging, promoting a firm and youthful complexion. It also supports skin elasticity, minimizing the appearance of wrinkles and fine lines over time.

05

NAIL AND CUTICLE CARE

Pamper your nails and cuticles with Jojoba oil's nourishing benefits. Massage a few drops into your nails and cuticles to promote strength and prevent dryness.

06

KEEPS ACNE AT BAY

Jojoba oil, a natural moisturizer resembling human sebum, balances skin oils, helping acne-prone skin stay hydrated without clogging pores. Its anti-inflammatory properties reduce redness and irritation, promoting a calmer, clearer complexion.

07

MAKEUP REMOVAL AND CLEANSING

Effortlessly remove makeup and impurities with Jojoba oil, gently dissolving even waterproof cosmetics without stripping your skin of its natural oils.

JOJOBA OIL

Jojoba oil, often referred to as nature's golden elixir, is a precious liquid extracted from the seeds of the Jojoba plant (Simmondsia chinensis). Native to the arid regions of North America, this remarkable oil has been treasured for centuries for its exceptional beauty and health benefits.

One of the most fascinating attributes of Jojoba oil lies in its molecular structure, which closely resembles the sebum produced by our skin. This unique characteristic makes it an exceptional natural moisturizer that effortlessly penetrates the skin, providing deep hydration without clogging pores. Suitable for all skin types, it's particularly beneficial for individuals with sensitive or oily skin, as it helps balance natural oil production.

Apart from its remarkable moisturizing abilities, Jojoba oil boasts a bounty of vitamins, antioxidants, and fatty acids, bestowing your skin with a nourishing and protective shield against environmental stressors and free radicals. Its unparalleled composition makes it a key ingredient in various skincare products and a powerful ally in your journey towards radiant, healthy skin.

You can incorporate Jojoba oil in your daily skincare routine to simply moisturize your skin or do a facial massage. For an AM routine you can use it right before applying sunscreen, and for a PM routine it comes after moisturizer. For a lymphatic drainage massage, we recommend using it during the day rather than at night.
